Dearest friends,

As Mother's Day approaches, we're filled with thoughts of the incredible love, unwavering support, and profound connection that mothers bring into our lives. To celebrate these cherished bonds and extend that spirit of generosity, we're thrilled to announce the launch of Life's LeftOvers: 8 x 8 #Love, a heartwarming series of ebook collections dedicated to exploring the beauty and complexities of human connection, starting with the powerful theme of #Mothers #love #support.

This isn't just a reading experience; it's an opportunity to make a tangible difference. Each month, a new edition will be released on the 8th, and for every ebook enjoyed, $.88 will be contributed to support eight deserving non-profit organizations.

For our very first edition, launching on May 8th in honor of Mother's Day, we want to make it truly special and community-driven. We invite you to be a part of this heartfelt endeavor from the very beginning!

Here's how you can get involved in shaping our inaugural #Mothers #love #support edition:

1. Nominate a Non-Profit Organization: Do you know of a charity whose mission deeply resonates with themes of maternal well-being, family support, or spreading love in meaningful ways? We want to hear about them! Please share your nomination here . Tell us a little about the organization and why you believe they would be a wonderful recipient of the support generated by our first edition.

2. Share Your Heartfelt Stories: Have you experienced or witnessed a story that beautifully captures the essence of a mother's love, the strength of maternal support, or the profound impact of these connections? We invite you to submit your personal narratives, reflections, or even short fictional pieces that align with the #Mothers #love #support theme. Please send your submissions to sophiasiriuspublishing@gmail.com . Let your words touch hearts and inspire others.

Together, we can create a first edition that not only celebrates the incredible role of mothers but also makes a real difference in the lives of those in need. We eagerly await your nominations and stories as we embark on this journey of love, support, and shared giving.
